

BLOOD MOON

On March 14th a total lunar eclipse will be visible in the Northern Hemisphere. The timing is such, that this is also a full moon known as the "Blood Moon." This week, Kid Scoop explains why a lunar eclipse occurs and the reasons why this March moon is being called a Blood Moon.

SPONSORED BY

